

Market Demand

Refer to the quantity of a commodity that all consumers are willing and able to buy, at each possible price during a given period of time.

